

WE NOMINATE

Marver Hillel Bernstein, a long-visioned educator, who combines long years of specializing in public administration and government-business relations with broad experience on both the state and federal levels of government. This week this 50-year old scholar-public servant, a Princetonian for some 22 years, has announced his "retirement" as the first Deao of Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, a highly sensitive post in which he has been responsible for shaping professional education for public service at levels of excellence comparable to what has been achieved over the years in the nation's best schools of medicine and law.

At the same time, while yielding his Woodrow Wilson School responsibilities to economist John P. Lewis, a former member of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and now United States Minister-director of the AID Mission to India, Bernstein, on the threshold of a 15-month leave with the prestigious Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C., has accepted still another absorbing assignment. He is the newly elected Chairman of the National Hillel Commission, the policy-making body for some 270 Hillel centers and programs on college campuses throughout the country, which are concerned with the "action issues" of poverty, race relations, the Vietnam war and the draft.

A fortnight ago, in addressing the New Jersey Personnel and Guidance Association, Bernstein didn't pull any punches. He said: "Student protest movements today, in their more extreme forms, can be best understood metaphorically. They appear to be directed against a civilization that is being swept toward more knowledge and more power, with no final aim in sight and without the discipline of wisdom or the motive force of compassion. In a world of ballistic missiles, thermo-nuclear bombs, and an escalating arms race, it comes as no surprise that some youth waver between refuge in hippie life, salvation through violence against society, and escape to a new Utopia."

Bernstein, tapped by The White House as a member of the 1964 Presidential Task Force on Transportation and of the 1966 Presidential Task Force on Manpower for State and Local Government, is a member of the Visiting Committee for the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard and is, also, deeply concerned with educational and political developments in Israel. He has been a consultant to any number of key government agencies, including the U.S. Bureau of the Budget, the Economic Stabilization Agency, the Connecticut Commission on State Government Organizations and the Federal Civil Service Commission.

A native of Mankato, Minn., Bernstein earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Wisconsin and joined Princeton's Department of Politics in 1917. He has been a Princeton teacher ever since, rising to the rank of professor in 1958 and five years ago becoming first Dean of the Wilson School. In 1967 he was tapped for two assignments of state-wide significance: the direction of the State Reapportionment Commission, defining the State's 40 Assembly Districts for Legislative elections, and the chairmanship of the then newly created Public and Schools Employees Grievance Study Commission.

For bringing to his areas of competence the assets of training, temperament and judgment; for thinking first in terms of policy and then turning to matters of detail; for opening new windows in the field of higher professional education; he is our nominee as

LETTERS COME HOME
From The Peace Corps. "Tiaddil" is one of those Ara he umbrella words that cover a lot of ground. It means "here you are," "does this please you," "may I help you" and "what would you like."

The definition comes in a letter from Randolph Hobler, who is serving with the Peace Corps in Libya. And the thoughtfulness behind it gives many a Peace Corpsman's reason for signing up.

"No matter how much advertising Peace Corps Washington put out, no one back home can really understand the experience one receives over here," Tom Wilson writes from Sierra Leone. "In fact, Peace Corps propaganda I would most closely equate with the Tarzan flicks. It's equally romantic and equally far from the truth."

Not Nuts. "We do not live in hovels. All of us in Sierra Leone have kerosene refrigerators. Many volunteers here (not I) have full time house boys or stewards. Many of us (though not enough) engage in work (Chieftain or Community Development), have Chevrolet pick-ups, Landrovers or Hondas, And Peace Corps live allowances, though meager by American standards, are quite sufficient for comfortable life within the African economy. That is to say, we are not suffering, and sympathy and awe at our devotion most often can only bring chuckles on our part."

Randolph Hobler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Hobler of Mercer Road, is one of 70 English teachers in Libya. "We are spread out from Tripoli and Benghazi to Chat in the heart of the Sahara," he writes.

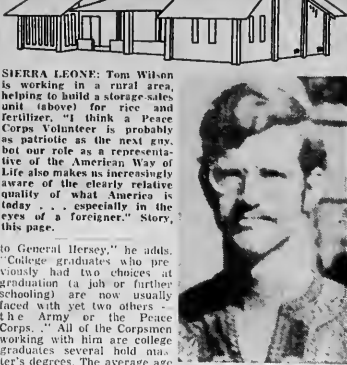

"Libya is underdeveloped and rich simply because of oil. We are fully paid by the Libyan government; the Peace Corps can boast of no equal host."

"This Arab kingdom is presently overrun with foreigners. Americans sit on Libya's supreme court; Yugoslavs and Chinese staff her hospitals. Pay rates are high. There is little in the way of professional training in Libya, so she must seek it abroad. To do this, a crash program in English was implemented this year, starting the kids out in the fifth grade."

He has 60 students in the primary school at Al Gala, Libya. It is the program title, and its quality is high, "thanks to the Peace Corps."

SIERRA LEONE: Tom Wilson is working in a rural area, helping to build a storage shed, out (above) for rice and fertilizer. "I think a Peace Corps Volunteer is probably as patriotic as the next guy, but our role as a representative of the American Way of Life also makes us increasingly aware of the clearly relative quality of what America is today... especially in the eyes of a foreigner." Story, this page.

In General Hershey," he adds. "College graduates who've previously had two choices at graduation (a job or further schooling) are now usually faced with yet two others: the Army or the Peace Corps." All of the Corpsmen working with him are college graduates several hold master's degrees. The average age is 23.

"As far as the work is concerned, my only hope is that a minimal number of students will remain here long enough or sitting idle in a shop. As for as bringing about change—only by selling examples will no one be offended."

Idle Months? Tom Wilson, on the other hand, struggled through months of frustration in Sierra Leone until he hit his stride about four months ago. The son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wilson of Jefferson Road, he is assigned to the Khula Chieftain, although in fact he is working with a four-year-old agricultural society.

"This society collects payments from its members for fertilizer and plowing service provided by the national government for the cultivation of rice. It has also worked, rather ineffectively, as a sales outlet for their yields."

"My first 16 months on the assignment were spent without making any really significant contribution. We did some vegetable gardening, plantation work and introduced some minor administrative changes to the cooperative. It was less than satisfying, however, and left me with plenty of free time."

"The legendary extended family and communal effort of African society is dead," he comments. "The discovery of diamonds in the mountains, (and) government employment have virtually drained the villages of promising young people. The cities and towns are incredibly depressed with their unemployment and shanty dwellings."

He was in Sierra Leone last spring when the country experienced a peaceful coup in the midst of fears of a mercenary invasion. Anti-white tensions were high, he relates, coinciding with news of the assassinations of Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy and a "heightened awareness of the American involvement in Vietnam."

Spokesmen. "And due to the veritable plethora of Peace Corps Volunteers in this tiny country, we received the major brunt of these anti-American sentiments. The Volunteers in situations like this become increasingly aware of his position as a representative of America. . . . In a 50% Muslim Africa country one of the first questions asked about America is whether Muhammad Ali (Cassius Clay) is still in jail as an Al Hajj who doesn't believe in fighting in imperialist wars."

Although it was last spring that Tom's unit hit upon the idea of building a rice and fertilizer storage and sales outlet building, work on the project began in February of this year.

"Assuming there is a job to do in one's assignment, Peace Corps is an ideal opportunity for a young man fresh out of college."

frankness of experience, a job is waiting. "For others there simply is no job. . . . Peace Corps does very little research into the assignments before placing a volunteer, and the general policy is that he either makes it there or doesn't make it at all."
"For teachers there is always a job available. But their common frustration is that in their assignment they often feel as if they are just filling slots that Sierra Leone nationals could do as well. For the Community Development Volunteer, the situation is often more complicated. One often finds himself (as I did for 16 months) sitting around, trying to psych out the situation, waiting for seasons to change, initiating possible projects which are either rejected or proven irrelevant, and just generally hoping though not really expecting things to change. . . ."

New Project. Tom's tour will be up in August of this year, but at this point he is so interested in the storage and sales building that he may stay until it is finished, his family believes. As he tells it, "The theory behind this would be to collect payments for plowing and fertilizer in rice, to hold a sort of bond which we would use as collateral on a loan to pay for the services. Then sell the rice, passing lorries in the rainy season when the price per bushel of rice is 50-100% higher than it is at harvest time."
A project proposal to this effect was drawn up and submitted to CARE, who offered $20 to help finance it. "In my early years at Princeton High I once had the aspirations of becoming an architect. As I went through my schooling, however, I moved more towards the liberal arts and ended up a German literature major. . . . I have reverted back to the role of architect — a mason, carpenter and roofer in a hut."
"Work on this project is just beginning now, so it looks as if I'll be pretty busy for the next seven months of my term, and if things go well, as it looks as though they will, I feel quite sure that in the end it will have been a very satisfying experience."

"Oral Society." From Libya, Randolph Hobler writes, "The only frustration is coping with a desire to be alone when I want to; this is an oral society where hardly anyone reads and everyone must know where you are going, and why. Talk is the rule of thumb or rather, mouth."
There are two minor frustrations, he adds, no girls to date. ("This is solved by saying 'malesh,' Arabic for 'never mind, so what,' it's not important," and "excuse me" all wrapped up into one.") And the lack of variety in food. Ninety percent of the times the meals are spaghetti or soup, or both; vegetables are rarely if ever eaten.
"The bread is French-style and is "delicious — a meal in LIBYA: Randolph Hobler is teaching English in a Peace Corps crash program. "Libyans are constantly delighted to meet someone who speaks their language, live as they live. . . ."

itself. This sameness of cuisine is partially offset by buying canned food in Tripoli if you can get there (there are no trains or rivers in Libya).
"I boil water every week for drinking. Bathing from a pot of hot rainwater once a week is a rule of thumb (or rather, hody)." More often than this, it simply too much trouble. . . .
Over-all, in summing their service in the Peace Corps, first from Tom Wilson:
"For someone who has the yen for travel, there hasn't been an opportunity like this since the old whaling schooners faded from the American scene. . . . To almost anyone who feels that Peace Corps might have something to offer them, I would surely encourage them to go ahead and try it. It offers an amazing range of opportunity which probably could be found no where else."

At the same time, I recommend that you don't go into it with the idea that Peace Corps offers a goal which you personally must struggle to meet. Peace Corps, unfortunately, in the American mind stands in an inhumanly exalted position which it simply doesn't deserve. . . . To be selected or to terminate early either in training or once you are in the field should be of no shame. Peace Corps Washington says that some people just aren't made for Peace Corps. Either it is that Peace Corps or particular programs or particular assignments are simply unsuitable to anyone much less the specific individual. . . . There is a Tunisian proverb: "Ka thup ka thumre ka yi he ra yi." To try and to fail, is not laziness. . . .
And from Randolph Hobler: "The rewards are manifold. Experiencing a foreign culture in depth (not just making a whirlwind tour of main cities), learning Arabic (not reading transcriptions from your 800 Berlitz), making friends, knowing that 60 kids who knew nothing of English in October now can talk, read and write a little better each day."

"The fantastic travel opportunities (except during wartime) and the knowledge that I'm a part of America's excess, untapped potential for good, siphoning off some of her manpower, generosity, wealth and know-how to where it is needed badly."
Also a minor pride in the U. S. (or at least the Peace Corps and her progenitors). The French teachers here, to take just one example, I won't mention the military or oil people here, who provoke mostly animosity, sometimes live high on the hog — a practice which is especially taboo in Moslem countries — and speak next to no Arabic. A Libyan is constantly delighted to meet someone who speaks his language, lives as he lives, and eats as he eats."

As the Arabs say, "Taddil."

TOWNSHIP SHARE JUMPS

Borough's Drop, With Mercer County tax figures now in the Township has discovered that it will be paying two-thirds of the cost of joint Borough-Township enterprises. The Borough will pay the other one-third.

The formula for sharing costs of such facilities like the public library, swimming pool and fire protection, is based on rates in the two municipalities. This year, the ratio will be 66% for the Township to 34% for the Borough. Last year, it was 61% to 39%.

You Won't Feel A Thing. Township residents won't feel the change, however, and the local purposes budget is still down 12c from last year. On a dollar basis, the amounts are not great, and the adjustment will be made in the reserve for uncollected taxes.

The most obvious changes are in the library and the fire protection budgets. The Township's share of library costs will go up about $13,000—from $151,561 to $164,561. For Township fire protection, the Borough will collect $22,938 instead of $21,919. No recreation adjustment was necessary since the Township is the banker for both municipalities.

Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini pointed out at the budget's public hearing Monday night, that the 66-34 ratio applies to revenues as well as to expenses.

ARE ALL READY? WE ARE! Frisky animals from Trinity Church's forthcoming "Noye's Fludde" are just about ready to enter the Ark, even though the "Fludde" isn't due until the weekend of April 25-6. After amending the budget, When Committee admitted to bring it into the new line, Committee listened to questions from the audience and then passed the budget.

Legal fees in the budget are up, explained attorney Gordon Griffin, because the Township faces so much litigation: the post-office appeal; two cases involving developers who want to build high-rise apartments in the flood plain; tax appeal of the Princeton Shopping Center and the Center's new site plan suit. All these will cost about $15,000, Mr. Griffin estimated.

Mr. Griffin explained that fees to his firm remain the same.

William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, was assured that extra police protection had been provided in the new budget. At least one additional officer will be hired before the end of the year and possibly two, said Committeeman William L. Wilson. Also, an additional patrol car and an additional radar set have been budgeted.

Mr. Wilson said he planned to meet next Monday with a professional firm which may undertake a study of the Township police department.

Henry J. Frank, 126 Valley Road, asked whether public schools and the community swimming pool were charged for use of sewer facilities.

George Alexander, 857 State Road, commenting on the fire protection budget, asked for a study of membership qualifications for Princeton's volunteer fire companies and suggested a municipal company might be better.

Mayor John D. Wallace commended the excellence of the present volunteer fire companies, but added that Committee would discuss Mr. Alexander's suggestion for a study of membership.

Committeeman James Floyd seconded the idea of examining the membership policies of Princeton's volunteer companies. The municipal budget is $1,932,678; of that amount under the changes brought about by the new ratio, $793,750 is to be raised by taxes.

Code Adopted. The 1967 edition of the National Building Code was adopted, with amendments proposed by the Township's building official, W. Joseph Shinn, and protested by several builders.

Mr. Shinn's amendments would require five-eighths inch instead of half-inch plywood subflooring and twelve-inch instead of eight-inch foundation cinderblock.

William Baggett, counsel for Tri-State Development, Sandean Construction and Shady Brook Estates, and Benedict Yedlin for himself, protested the additional cost to the homebuyer of the up grading. Mr. Baggett estimated $530 more for the larger blocks and $164 for the thicker decking, for a $7-$754 increase in the price of a house.

Committeeman Wilson cast the only "no" vote on the amendments, but joined Committee to pass the new code unanimously.

A builder holding a permit under the former code, can go ahead if he starts within 90 days and finishes within two years, said Mr. Griffin.

Although Jule Huntley was again given the contract for the Township's five garbage districts—he was $10,000 under the next lowest bidder—he came in for some stern criticism about his performance.

Engineer Frank Quinby said about 100 people complained last year about Mr. Huntley as garbage collector and he told Committee the new contract has penalty clauses.

Committeeman Thomas Hartmann, whose garbage collector Mr. Huntley is, said he'd never had any trouble, and he reminded Committee that Mr.

Huntley runs a one-man show without other employees. Mr. Wilson, agreeing, said Mr. Huntley would be invited to stop in and talk over the problems.

Mr. Cherry proposed snow-shoveling districts, like garbage-removal districts; establish—Continued On Next Page lished by neighborhood agreement, set up by the Township and paid for only by residents of the district.

Mr. Frank charged that some householders deliberately didn't shovel snow because it was easier to let the Township shovel it off and pay the "penalty."

Mr. Griffin reported that a recent Assembly bill may give the Township authority to regulate parking in the Shopping Center, Traffic Safety and the Planning Board will discuss.

AT RIVERSIDE, . . .

Tenish, A school principal resigns. Parents feel they have not been told the real reason why, and dark clouds of suspicion and uncertainty begin to form and grow.

Mrs. Alice Packard, principal of Riverside School, submitted her resignation a few weeks ago and the situation at Riverside has become increasingly tense since that time (See "Mailbox," page 15).

On March 5, several persons were invited by Superintendent Philip E. McPherson to discuss the future of Riverside. Because attendance was by invitation only, many parents who learned of the meeting, suspected that something sinister was going on behind their backs.

According to one Riverside parent, several uninvited guests went anyway, and asked for a public meeting, which so far has not taken place.

However, on Monday, March 10, more than 250 parents gathered at Riverside to express their concern and to hear three members of the Princeton Regional School Board, Dr. Harvey Rothberg, Winthrop Pike and Mrs. George Freeman. Dr. McPherson did not attend.

According to Ralph Heymann, whose letter appears in "Mailbox," the school board members were "evasive" about the real reasons for Mrs. Packard's resignation, and did not settle parents' doubts about possible innovations — including ungraded classes — at Riverside.

The 250 people present divided into groups, and reassembled later in the evening to exchange comments. A seven-page report of discussions in those groups, has been sent to all Riverside parents.

Word of Welcome

Spring, I hope you
Come on strong —
This winter's wintered
Too darned long!

Last winter was a lot colder but this one brought much more snow. Despite Tuesday's excursion by the thermometer to the high 60s, some of that snow will be with us for a while longer.

The new season will make its bow here at 2:08 Thursday afternoon. It will be accompanied by mild temperatures which are expected to maintain a trend somewhat above normal for the next few days. Showers Friday night are a possibility, but pleasant weather is the best part of the forecast.

Parent concern seems to divide into two broad areas. First, the question of Mrs. Packard's resignation. Although school officials have said that she resigned to devote more time to a family-owned business, a school board member (unidentified) who spoke to one of the groups on March 10, implied that the problem involved a confrontation between an experienced teacher who might be "set in her ways," and a young, innovative superintendent.

Second, the question of innovation itself. Some parents praised Riverside's academic program and said its pupils were the best educated in the system. Others said there is an atmosphere of pressure at Riverside which is harmful to some children, and a rigid opposition to change.

The possibility of ungraded classes is the innovation most parents are questioning, according to Mr. Heymann.

Riverside faculty, at the March 10 meeting, accused the school board of not being specific and not presenting facts. The teachers also said Dr. McPherson showed poor judgment when he held the initial meeting by invitation only.

Faculty members expressed their admiration for Mrs. Packard and added, "our reaction to her resignation is too personal to be expressed publicly."

DISCIPLINE GROUP SET

To Discuss Student Situations. After several days of delay, the way was cleared Monday for Princeton University's committee on discipline to begin its deliberations on the fate of some 40 black students involved in the takeover last week of the New South administration building. Hearings were expected to begin by Wednesday at the latest.

A recommendation permitting the discipline committee to hold open hearings, was unanimously passed by the university faculty and the Undergraduate assembly. The Students for a Democratic Society had demanded the hearings be open to the public, and the five student members on the committee had walked out in support.

The faculty resolution noted that the discipline committee chairman would have the obligation to insure that order, dignity and decorum be maintained at the hearings. Any interference with the proceedings shall be regarded as a grave violation of regulations, the resolution states.

The committee, whose members will still vote in secret, has several options open to it. Other than taking no action, the lightest punishment is an "official reprimand."

"Disciplinary probation," another minor punishment, would give the student another chance, with a second infraction rendering him liable to dismissal. Two kinds of one-year suspension are possible, one with almost automatic readmission, the other contingent upon a student's actions during his year off.

Indefinite suspension may be imposed, with the student having to write his parents, who would in turn be required to write the Dean of Students before he could attend classes again. Permanent dismissal is the final course of action open to the committee.

ARC to Accept Ruling. In a related action Monday, the Association of Black Collegians, the primary group involved in the seizure of the building, announced it would accept the verdict of the discipline committee "because our cause is higher than the pecuniary concerns of the University." ARC asserted that its members should be punished as a group, not as individuals. In a letter to The Daily Princetonian, the group stated: "At all times were aware that we were violating university regulations concerning our action. We feel, however, that the thrust of these regulations is not applicable to the moral question of investment in South Africa. Therefore we cannot cooperate in the application of these regulations and will not appear before the disciplinary committee."

In a warning to all concerned, the group closed: "As we accept what is dealt us, let it be clear that the future of this society and this university is bleak, and that the final bill for this type of university action has yet to be submitted."

TIGERS ARE COPY-CATS. So Say Dissident Alumni. Princeton University, which has for several years found its student body taking strong exception to many of its policies, learned last week that it must now cope with organized dissent in the ranks of its alumni.

The opposition will stem from a group known as ACTION (the Alumni Committee to Involve Ourselves Now). Among its aims is to force the university's pell-mell rush to go to educational "would weaken the quality of education," might "topple" the institution's financial structure and is essentially an effort to follow in the footsteps of Harvard and Yale.

Other trends on campus to which ACTION is opposed:

- Dictation to the University by a segment of the student population as to how it shall invest its funds. The group wired President George Unger on no concessions of any kind to last week's demand that Princeton sell its holdings in South African-based firms.
- Discontinuation of academic credit for ROTC courses. ACTION claims that the decision is not a matter for faculty judgment but a question of the relationship of Princeton to the United States of America and national security.
- Permissiveness on the University's part in enforcing student rules and regulations. ACTION decries the general trend toward "lower morality."
- President Goheen's announcement that co-educational applications will be accepted for the coming academic year. Women, ACTION feels, "would be bad for Princeton men—male isolation is the big, contributing aspect to the success of his education."

"BAGS" FOR THE CHILDREN: Members of the Paper Bag Players use original jokes, puns, songs and sketches to entertain children in the four-to-twelve age range. Props are usually — well, paper bags, or a big piece of paper with feet painted on it. The company will play McCarter during Easter vacation.

News Of The THEATRES

REALLY FOR CHILDREN
Age 4-12. "The Paper Bag Players," commented the London Times, "offer something very rare: a children's show really addressed to children and speaking to them in their own terms, without any trace of moral purpose, show-business values, or art-theatre kitsch."

The "Bags" will visit McCarter Theatre for two Easter Vacation performances on Saturday, April 12 at 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Everything the "Bags" do is original. They use songs, jokes, dance, poetry and mime, aimed particularly at youngsters from as young as four, up to about 12. The name grows out of the "Bags" — use of ordinary things, like paper bags, as prop and costume.

"PLOUGH & STARS"
Flood Repertory Play. It missed St. Patrick's Day by a few, but a late March opening is close enough. It's "The Plough and the Stars," Sean O'Casey's drama of the Irish uprising, opening into the McCarter repertory this Friday at 8:30.

An Irishman wears the director's hat. Brendan Burke, actor-director with the company, was born in Dublin and has played the Abbey Theatre. He will direct himself in the lead role of Father Good in "The Plough and the Stars."

Mr. Burke has spent the season as the cigar-smoking Charley's aunt, as Jaques in

"As You Like It" and as the Baron in "The Three Sisters." Other familiar faces from the company will be Kathryn Walker (Rosaline in "As You Like It") who will play the neighborhood gossip Mrs. Go-gan; Beth Dixon (Masha, in "The Three Sisters") who will be the trullup Rosie; Susan Kaslow (Audrey, in "As You Like It") who will be the pathetic, tubercular Mollser; Holly Villare (Laura, in "Glass Menagerie") who will play Nora Clitheroe.

Eve Johnson (Locasta in "Oedipus") will be the fish wife Bessie; Martin Oliver (Gentleman Caller in "Glass Menagerie") will be Jack Clitheroe; Tom Tarpey, who has played many character roles this year including one of the undergraduates in "Charley's Aunt," will be Uncle Peter and Arthur Lith-gow will play The Bartender. The play takes place in Dublin during the 1915-16 Irish fight for independence, and the title comes from the plough — Continued on Next Page

The entire program will consist of Nikolaïs' full-length work, "Imago." The art of Nikolaïs has been called "a theatre of total happening, combining light, sound, color, shape and motion."

Nikolaïs, in addition to being his own choreographer, also handles all technical aspects of his productions, including both light and sound.

McCarter still has orchestra seats for the April performance, but the balcony is sold out.

IT'S NEW To Us

120 YEARS EXPERIENCE
Means a Lot of Footwork. The Hults, father, sons, grandsons, daughters and in-laws, have been in the shoe business in Princeton since 1892. Looking around at those currently on duty at the 140 Nassau Street store Ralph Hult Jr., grandson of the late Warren M. Hult) remarked the other day, "I guess that altogether we have 120 years experience!"

The store keeps up with the times by simply adding a new generation Fifth to the state. When you go in, you'll see Ralph Sr. and Pete (Warren Jr.), each with 20 years at the store; Lillian Hult Hall; Charley Simone, who started with Warren Sr. some 25 years ago and married Clara Hult; Ralph Jr., Nellie Meyers in the office — she's a Hult, and Charles Corrigan, a non-relative but regular fixture at the store for the past 12 years.

The Hults went into business for themselves in 1929, when Warren Sr. opened a shoe store on Nassau a few doors from where they are now. They carry shoes for the whole family. Their basement extends under the next two stores, filled with shoes and name shoes you know — Florsheim, Bass, Roblee, Dexter, Fredwin, Hush, Puppies and Clarks of England for men and boys; Air Step Joyce, Sandier of Boston, Lady Dexter, Pold and M. E. East for Puppies and the Bass "Weejuns" for women and girls; Stride Rite for children, as well as infants', nurses' and orthopedic shoes.

New this year for men is a group in Irish saddle leather with English crepe soles. A wonderfully flexible shoe that comes in either high or low versions, made by Clark's of England, originators of the desert boot.

Also new is the 2-yelet "Wallabee," a rugged, crepe soled shoe with a wedge-type heel and padded inside. It comes in hunting suede or a mellow tan calf. By Clark. And Florsheim's are coming in red, or blue!

"The George boot is very popular," Ralph Jr. continues, pointing to five versions in different shades of brown or textures. (About $16.99 to $34.95). "And the Dingo boot by Acme — we can't keep them in the store!" The Dingo is a calf-high pull-on boot with a strap across the instep and the most terrific print lining.

Among the young girls' shoes is the new Stride Rite T-strap with perforated trim. It comes in a hickory color, and the strap is wide. Also in hickory is an attractive up-the-front vamp trimmed with a narrow strap and buckle. (Girls' shoes $10 up).

For boys, lots of strap styles from the George boot (ankle

THOSE WERE THE DAYS: Thirty antiques dealers have brought their wares to the 10th annual Princeton Antiques Show, under way at Princeton Day School this Thursday through Saturday. Anne Metcalf, daughter of Mrs. Edwin H. Metcalf of the Wellesley Club sponsoring committee, admires a ship model on a Victorian dresser at Claire O'Donnell's Antiques, Bedminster. Mrs. O'Donnell is among the exhibitors.

high) to the wing-tip loafers. (From $11.50) You'll notice that shoe leather is being given an antiqued look this season.

Women's styles feature about any height heel you'd like. We are partial to the well-made Sandiers, which include patents this season. A very nice Joyce pump comes with a slim, high heel, and a scalloped edge trim across the toe.

The most feminine shoes are the Mr. Easton's — particularly those with the steel filligree buckles, and the rich brown tortoise patent leathers. Among the Foot Flairs, we liked the chunky-beeled, semi-dress shoe of calf with a soft cross strap linked at the side. And there are some intriguing metal link trims on the Lady Dexter walking shoes — all of antiqued calf and low heel.

You'll find the new platinum and gray are to be wear-able with spring prints among the Joyce and Foot Flairs. And Mr. Easton has a nifty white lustre frogskin dress shoe. Hult's also has an astonishingly wide line of Trimfit pantihoses, regular, or opaque, or textured lights — however you like them. And socks for the boys and men in your family include the famous Burlington "Gold Cup" — a soft orlon-and-nylon weave that is durable and machine washable.

If you leave your old shoes at Hult's when you buy, the ones in good condition are sent to a mission in Selma, Ala. If you were around during the difficult formative years of Borough-Township recreation department when the community pools and tennis courts complex was begun, then you'll remember Ralph Hult Sr. as the hard-working chairman.

And if you're in Hult's when the fire sirens go off, you'll see Ralph Sr. and Jr. fly out the door. Both are volunteer firemen. "When that siren goes, we go!"

It's that kind of a family and that kind of a store.

IT'S A TOGA YEAR

For Nighties, Edith's shop on Chambers Street is happily full of the most feminine lingerie you've seen in a long time. It's as though the designers have taken a look at the pantsuit and decided there's more to life than this.

For instance, the toga. The toga, in its enchantingly brief version, is a pair of lace-edged squares, stitched up the sides, gathered a bit at the shoulders. And the colors are — Continued On Page 9

THE FIXER: Alan Bates, as Yakov Bok (The fixer), is interrogated in his cell by government lawyer Blibikov (Clark Bogarde) in this scene from the film version of Malraux's prize-winning novel, now at the Garden Theatre.

Thursday, April 10, at 2:30 at Princeton High School. Tickets will also be sold at the door that afternoon.

MEN WANTED! Boys are swarming all over the place, enough for several times 76 trombones, but what "The Music Man" needs is men—and women, too—to supply the population for Meredith Willson's P.J. & B.'s 1969 spring production, of course. Milton Lyon will again direct the community of boys and girls, housewives and commutators, semi-pros and rank amateurs who perform each year in Princeton's community musical.

An experienced barbershop quartet is also on the "most wanted" list, and there are still openings for dancers. The dancer's audition will be Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre.

Tryouts for cast and chorus will be held this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12:30 and 1 p.m. to 5:30 and again on Sunday from 1 to 5:30 and 7:30 to 10 p.m., all in the basement lounge of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Anyone who wants to audition—and all are invited—should call McCarter Theatre at 921-6700 to arrange for a specific appointment.

The Fixer (now playing), Bernard Malamud's novel "The Fixer" comes to the screen with Alan Bates in the title role and Clark Bogarde as the lawyer whose charity to the fixer costs him his life. Yakov Bok is a Jewish handyman, or fixer, in a brutal anti-Semitic Kiev on the eve of World War I. He risks getting work outside the ghetto. It is discovered that he is a Jew, and an manufactured evidence is accused of the ritual murder of a young boy. In spite of years of unspeakable suffering in prison, he refuses to die, to confess, or even to accept a pardon from the Czar, holding out for a trial to prove his innocence. The message is the triumph of the spirit over bigotry and cruelty. It is at its most effective in laying bare the horror of the physical ordeal, the beatings, the constant searchings of the cell and person of the fixer, the attempts to brain-wash him.

It's New To Us

today's bright pink, or yellow or green.
In the long version, the toga is open up the side seams and worn with bikini pants and a matching coat. We saw it in white, with blue ribbon threaded through the wide lace trim up the sides and across the hem, and took a deep breath.

Also new, for the total look, are the bra slips that eliminate all those shoulder straps. Edith carries the Ball with the snowflake bodice and scalloped hem (Sizes 32-38, white, beige, black).

And the garterless party girdle, cleverly elasticized at the leg to grip and lock your stocking. Or, if you prefer, the Warner "body," made of Lycra spandex and cut low to the back. It looks like nothing. Both have a very smooth line. Edith also has the wonderful "Halterneck" bra to wear with or without straps or with the straps fastened as a halter. The cut is three quarters cup.

The mini gowns will delight you: a yellow nylon tulle with ecru lace accents, or a demure white lace jabot on a blue nylon tulle with a satin edged hem. We were delighted with a bra top minigown in yellow, frosted with a sheer white overlay and accented by tiny lace edged straps.

Dacron-and-cotton has come back. We're glad to say, in some adorable gowns, most of them short. The fabric is wrinkle-resistant, and it's truly wash-and-wear. Among the short gowns is an enchanting halter-topped blue with tiny pleats. And there's a very pretty long gown in pink with a beautifully cut U-neck. Many of the short gowns have coats to match. The sets come in petite, small, medium and large. And while you're dreaming over the housecoats, you'll see a true Gibson Girl robe in yellow, edged in ruffles the collar down and to rundle the hem. It's very turn of the century.

We also like the hostess culottes at Edith's: a rusticy print in acetate crepe print with wide sleeves is particularly striking. In Banlon, long culottes in a marvelous, dark splashed print of red, white, beige, black and mustard, held at the waist with a black belt.

And we wish we had told you in time for St. Patrick's Day about Edith's bright green short gown, as full as a dancer's dress, cut short, and edged over the shoulders with wide bands of ecru lace falling from narrow green straps.

It's a feminine collection—logos and all.

YESTERDAY'S TREASURES
At Antiques Show. The antique slant top desk, and 3 1/2 p.s., highboys, cranberry glass, pewter and silver are in the plain and simple are on display this Thursday evening, Friday and Saturday at the Princeton Antiques Show. "Eighteenth Century Design for Living" is the theme of this year's show. It has been sponsored for ten years by the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey.

Held at the Princeton Day School on the Great Road, the hours are from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. this Thursday; 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturday.

Thirty dealers are involved this year, coming from all parts of the Middle Atlantic States—some appearing for the ninth or tenth time. Almost all of the times are for sale and at the same prices you'd find if you'd travelled to their shops.

When you think of it, it's a very convenient time to have 30 dealers come to you and save you all that driving. Hobart House from Haddam, Conn., for instance, are sister specialists and you'll find some early New Jersey pieces in their exhibit. Pewter is one of the specialties of the Leather Bucket, Inc., of Philadelphia.

Fifty King Antiques of Middle Valley, N.J., is showing some of its marvelous rare books and old prints. And Anne Delgado of Kintnersville, Pa., has a collection of all types of Early American primitives.

You may already know the 1807 House in Farmingdale, which is famous among antiques buffs not only for its collection of decoys, but for its authoritative knowledge in this field.

And furniture collectors will be delighted to see that at least 20 of the dealers are giving furniture a prominent place in their exhibits. A particularly choice item is the delicately carved red and gold lacquered Chinese chest, dated earlier than the 18th Century, shown by the Hannans of Chatham, Mass., who also have an unusually small size 18th Century highboy, complete with original brasses.

Very low highboy, dated 1740, is on view with the Harrisons' Antiques display from Bedminster. And the Lantern House of Basking Ridge, is showing a rare dub-top, slip top table made in Providence, R.I.

Enthusiasts of the antique slant top desk will find at least two offered: Claire O'Donnell, also of Bedminster, has a 36" slant top in maple made in Hillsbury, N.H. in 1780, together with a Windsor ladder-back chair. And Lantern House is featuring a Pennsylvania walnut desk of the transitional period, with Queen Anne brasses.

The smaller items are equally fascinating; an oil painting of Margaret J. Palmer of the Palmer family who were such great benefactors of Princeton University; several A. B. Frost prints; a Carrier & Ives, and a Hudson River School painting.

The variety ranges from the primitive to the exquisite: from early iron items to a beautiful and valuable collection of French antique glass paperweights, circa 1848.

The booths are set around a spring garden designed by Larry Benz of Kale's Nursery. Proceeds of the show go to Wellesley College and its scholarship fund. The annual show has raised some $31,000 for the college.

Pier, was the spokesman for the disenchanted alumni, declaring at the organizational meeting in Trenton that ACTION represents some 500 of Princeton's 40,000 former students. He charged that the Alumni Council fails to take his associates' opinions into consideration.

In an effort to prove its acceptance among the entire alumni body, ACTION plans to nominate, and hopes to elect, two of its own candidates to the Board of Trustees in voting to be held this spring. Running as an at-large candidate is Herbert W. Huber '41, president of the Nassau Broadcasting Co. A Seattle attorney, Arthur S. Langlie '52, will be nominated as a candidate for a seat from Region 4 and will be on the ballot sent to alumni west of the Mississippi.

STUDENT IS ROBBED

In Car on Washington Rd. A Princeton University student was robbed early Saturday morning a few minutes after he was picked up by a car on Washington Road.

Donald Bingham, 21, of Holder Hall, told Township police he was hitchhiking and was picked up by a car occupied by four Negro males near the Circle Esso. On the way into Princeton they told him they were going to rob him.

Mr. Bingham added they took his wallet but returned it when they discovered it contained no money. Then, after taking his $75 wristwatch, they let him out near Lot 5 on Washington Road and told him not to look back.

The victim further stated that his attackers told him they were going to stab him if he did not have any money. He told police, however, that he did not see any knife or weapon among them.

After undertaking the initial investigation, Township police turned the case over to P.D. Frank Cox of the West Windsor Township police when it was discovered the crime had taken place in West Windsor. Mr. Bingham was unable to give police a good description of the four.

RESIDENTS TO MODEL

At YWCA Luncheon and Shaw. Fourteen Princeton area models will be featured at the second annual Gourmet Luncheon and Fashion Show, sponsored by the Princeton YWCA at 12:30, Thursday, March 27. The models who will show their native costumes are: Mrs. A. D. Macnab, Scotland; Mrs. Ashok Amin, India; Mrs. Bertil Gartner, Sweden; Mrs. Olav Midtun, Norway; Miss Alicia Tachon, Argentina; Kirsten and Stephanie Mercer, Germany.

Also, Mrs. Haruo Aihara and Mrs. Norman Nuding, Japan; Miss Mary Young, Africa; Mrs. Fritz Dimpel, Netherlands; Mrs. Helmut Bruenner, Austria; and Mrs. Ronald Enstrom, Germany. Mrs. Roger E. Schubert and Mrs. Robert Thomas are co-chairmen of the fashion show.

SHOPPING CENTER SUES

Over Site Plan. The Princeton Shopping Center has filed suit against Princeton Township over site plan review requirements for the new A&P and the Bamberger's addition which the Center wants to build.

Named in the suit are the Township, Township Committee and W. Joseph Shinn, the building official of the Township. Center attorneys charge that site plan review provisions in the township aren't applicable to the Center's building plans.

AIRLINES BACK SOLBERG

At Jelpart Site. The so-called Solberg site in Hunterdon County is the choice of major airlines in this country for the proposed airport to be built somewhere in the New Jersey.

New Jersey metropolitan area. A statement backing that location was read Tuesday in Trenton at joint legislative hearings called to consider the selection of a site to relieve current traffic at the three existing airports.

The statement declared that Solberg has adequate land area, that satisfactory transportation facilities can be developed and that McGuire (near Fort Dix) is too remote from the densely-populated areas in New York and New Jersey which the airlines must continue to serve. The points were set forth by George E. Heck, president of United Airlines and chairman of the Aviation Development Council. He added that the airlines' faith that they have settled on the proper site "cannot be shaken in the foreseeable future."

Whereas a fortnight ago, residents of Monmouth County picketed the hearings in protest over possible selection of a site near Allentown, this week it was the turn of a delegation from Hunterdon and Somerset counties to bear placards in the Assembly gallery.

While considerable interest in the hearings this month has been evidenced in Princeton, of those close to the proposals it is the considered judgment that no definite action on site selection will be taken for at least a year, at the earliest. They point out that it is wholly unlikely that choice of a site would be made before a new governor is elected in November, and that such action can hardly be taken during the first few weeks of his term in 1970.

Topics Of The Town

The judges heard arguments Monday by Asbury Park attorney Richard Ansell, representing the N.C.L.A., and by Michael Spicer, for Lawrence Township. The N.C.L.A. is challenging the validity of the Lawrence zoning amendment that made it possible for profit-making firms like Squibb, to locate in land previously designated as Rural A.

Mr. Ansell asserted that the township's master plan had Rural A as a residential zone and that the amendment is not in accord with this plan. He charged Squibb with preying on residential zones, taking advantage of the cost of the land and prestigious atmosphere of a residential area.

LAND PRICE SET

8,670 For Public Service Strip. Public Service is asking $9,500 for the 8,670 square foot strip of land needed by Princeton Community Housing, Inc. if the non-profit corporation builds middle-income housing on the Borough's Witherspoon parking lot.

The strip, approximately 46 by 186 feet is next to the public library and behind the Wigwag Street. Public Service building. Originally, the Borough asked for a 30 foot wide strip, but Public Service has agreed to sell 16 more feet.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson said this week he thinks the Borough ought to buy the land whether housing is built on the site or not. The strip would provide 25 parking spaces. The mayor said that, since annual revenue from parking would be $160-$200 per space, the strip could pay for itself in about two years.

THIEF GETS $150

From Bishop's Office. Methodist Bishop Prince A. Taylor called police last week to report that someone had entered his office at One Palmer Square, Trenton. He said, was a bold thief and $150 in cash. Chief Peter J. McGrohan said that the front door of the office had somehow been opened without being forced. P. Bernard Lenhardt investigated.

Mrs. D. M. Medley, 47 Van

Kirk Road, reported the theft Monday night of four hubcaps from her car which it was at the Witherspoon Street parking lot. She valued them at $120. Between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday, someone stole an income tax return check made out in the amount of $69.20 from the interior mailbox of Alexander Johnson, 42 Witherspoon Street. Chief McGrohan reported that banks in the area were notified, as well as Princeton Postmaster John Dilworth.

Frank Pearce, a Princeton University student, reported the theft last week of 20 stereo tapes valued at $150 from his convertible which had been parked behind Quadrangle Club, 33 Prospect Avenue.

Police said the thief had cut a slit in the canvas top to reach inside the car. Some tools were also taken.

Shotgun Missing. Eric F. Kettel called Township police last week to report that a .12 gauge shotgun is missing from his house at 131 Brookstone Drive.

He told police he has searched his house and questioned his friends without avail. He estimated he has been missing since February 1.

Mrs. Edna Holland, who with her husband occupies a gardener's cottage on Pretty Brook Road, reported the theft of some money during the weekend.

Township police report that an undetermined amount of money was taken from several cardboard boxes inside the couple's cottage. P. John Hammond, who investigated, said there was no sign of forced entry.

FIRE GUTS ROOMS

Of Garage Apartment. A two-room apartment above a garage on the property of Mrs. Bernard Kilgore of Pretty Brook Road, was gutted by fire Saturday.

All Princeton volunteer fire companies responded to a general alarm sounded at 1:53 p.m. Police said no one was home at the time. Origin of the one-hour blaze is still under investigation.

The fire was discovered by Carl Anderson, 100 Stockton Street, a postal carrier. He went to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Howard Stepp, to call in the alarm.

CAR WINDOWS BROKEN

On Overbrook Drive. The windows of two cars parked in front of 101 Overbrook Drive were broken early last week by vandals.

Mrs. Barbara D. Cody, 14 Southern Way, said that the left side front window of her car had been broken. When she opened the door, the glass fell out in pieces.

Mrs. Yvonne Aronson, 55 Woodside Drive, reported her left rear window broken. Police said it appeared that a BB gun had been used.

Both women told police that they heard no report of their discovery of the vandalism.

CAR HITS ICY SPOT

Leaves Mercer Road. Albert M. Underwood, 23, 193 Harrison Street, was taken to Princeton Hospital late Saturday night by the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad and treated for minor injuries after his car had skidded off Mercer Road.

Mr. Underwood told Township police that he was driving west on Mercer when his car hit an icy spot about a mile from the Mercer Road Bridge. He lost control and his car swerved left into concrete drainage pipes lying along side a ditch.

P. Olin Carnevale made no charges. Mr. Underwood's car, it's front end and right side damaged, had to be towed away.

WOMAN LOSES LICENSE

For Drunken Driving. Elsie Robbins, 61, 2 Shirley Court, had her license revoked for two years in Borough court Monday by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. for drunken driving. She was also fined $225.

Sinclair Tucker, 50, of Trenton, also charged with drunken driving received the same sentence and fine. Both pleaded guilty.

Four others were fined for careless driving. They are: Carmel R. Wrublevsky, 51, 113 Hun Road; Amos O. Swartzen-truber, 42, 22 Dogwood Lane; Charles J. Melvin, 20, of Lincoln Highway—4115, and Peter J. Marx Jr., 54, 227 Washington Road, Penns Neck. Paying fines of $12 each were Joseph Fiedler, 61, 141 Linden Lane, stop sign; and Dianne Horch, 17, 9 Maple Avenue, Lawrenceville, red light. Failure to yield while entering a roadway from a private drive cost Elsie S. Harvey, 61, 245 Jefferson Road, $15 the same sum Charles O'Donnel, 36, 14 Baldwin Street, Pennington, paid for a late inspection violation.

MAILBOX

Lower Merion Viedicated.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
As a former resident of Lower Merion Township, I can not let Mrs. Hutter's false statement ("Mailbox," March 23) about the flooding of that Township's leash law go unanswered. During the years 1961 to 1966 we had a home in Lower Merion which was adjacent to a large wooded Township park. Residents kept their dogs on leashes at all times, even in the park which was used by many dog owners to exercise with their pets.

Perhaps if more Princeton dog owners jogged with their pets each day instead of staying indoors while their dogs exercise, there would be less of a probability of someone getting a coronary at the Township Committee's open meetings on a leash law.

There was never a dog problem in Lower Merion. One visit by the policeman in the patrol car on his normal rounds was sufficient to indicate to new arrivals in that Township that the law had to be complied with. Since dog owners knew that the law was being enforced as a routine part of police patrols, violations were a very rare occurrence.

As far as I could tell both dogs and their owners in Lower Merion seemed to be physically fit and mentally healthy despite a full leash law. There was no evidence of frustrated dogs that bayed all night. Moreover, dog owners were happier and healthier as the potential danger of dog bites to adults and children, accidents caused by loose pets, and property damage was minimized.

Nor was there any evidence that the frequency of burglaries was any higher in Lower Merion Township than in other communities of similar size and composition. (Dog owners should realize that dogs can protect their property only if the dog is on their property and not roaming a half mile away.)

Residents in the civilized community of Lower Merion know that if pets are leashed then they did not need "fences to make good neighbors."

PAUL DAVIDSON

"Good Dog Owner" Defined.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is a copy of the text of a letter I have sent to Township Committee.

Miss Margaret M. Murray
135 Clover Lane
"At the February Township Committee meeting when the dog control problem was discussed, Mr. Wilson said that the Township Committee could adopt a full-leash law, but he left something less drastic than that. He said that the Township Committee should be tried first so as not to penalize the 'good dog owners'."

"I would like to know the definition of a 'good dog owner.' In my opinion, he is one who assumes full responsibility for his pet and, therefore, does not allow the pet to roam at will. If I am correct in this belief, a full-leash law should not in any way disturb or penalize the 'good dog owner,' because he is supposedly taking care of his animal in the proper manner."

Why then all this hesitation about adopting either a full-leash law or, as a compromise, the ordinance proposed at the March meeting?

"Dog owners in Princeton Township have had ample time now (since last spring) to do something constructive about the dog nuisance problem. However, the problem is still with us, and it seems reasonable to me to expect Township Committee to pass the ordinance under consideration which will force dog owners to accept the responsibility which is rightfully theirs."

Let the Trained Dogs Run.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Why not exempt any canine graduate of a dog obedience school from a dog-leash law?

Most long distance rates are cheaper after 7 P.M. on weekdays and all day on Saturdays and Sundays. Call when it's cheaper.

New Jersey Bell

Perhaps this might inspire some dog owners to transform their unmanageable pets into more socially acceptable ones trained not to molest children, chase bikes or give in to the urge to dig up a neighbor's "laidisist."

Perhaps the scholarly pooches can be exempted from paying license fees as an incentive. That would help defray the burdensome cost of education at one.

SALLY GROSS
(Mrs. Jonathan L. Gross)

Rebuttal to Mr. Carrick.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
As a member of the Borough Planning Board I shared the responsibility for approving the site plans for the Princeton Community Housing Corporation's proposal for building middle income apartments on the air-space over the Borough parking yards at Spring Street. We did this while indicating that questions of desirability and legal and financial matters were not our province but were that of the Borough Council.

As a citizen, however, I cannot let pass unchallenged the exaggerated protests of my friend and fellow citizen, Councilman Alan Carrick. In lengthy and repeated memoranda to the Borough Council and to the public Mr. Carrick has, by the use of certain words, impugned the sincerity of the many dedicated volunteers making up PCH. Inc.

He uses such terms as "newly organized" (as if incorporation's youth were synonymous with "fly-by-night") and "this scheme" and "this packaged deal" and "snow job" to describe an architect's model and the oral presentation explaining it as though some sinister shell game had been perpetrated on a local-level Council. He says PCH has "had the benefit of professional coaching" on the financial problems (as though the hiring of professional accountants were akin to cheating on an exam).

On the side of righteousness (the Borough Council) as opposed to the evil outsiders (PCH) he urges "a light of public opinion," a rejection of giving "anything away to a private concern," a warning to beware being swept into a gesture of misguided largesse, at public expense.

He seems to me to be completely misleading in talking of "our Borough parking yards" as though somehow we were in danger of losing them. (Not so. In fact the center of town will gain about 100 more parking spaces than it now has.)

He indicates the value of the existing parking area to be several hundred thousand dollars. (Not so. The Spring Street parking yards are potentially worth that much but only if they were used for commercial or office development and no one I know, including Mr. Carrick, would dream of further choking the center of town with that much more of such structures.) As they stand the value of the parking yards is calculable only in the income from parking meters, less upkeep; their incalculable value is in the convenience they provide to parkers who then become users and customers of the goods and services available in the town center.

So there is here no question of "giving away" anything usable. Indeed, the reverse is true. The town stands to gain 70 middle-rent housing units, 100 more parking spaces, and above those now existing and those required for the apartments and all the in buildings far better to look at than the present sea of car tops.

Now, as to social questions which Mr. Carrick also seems to misunderstand. The primary gain would be the 70 middle income (middle-rent) housing in the heart of town where single people and childless couples would walk to work, to shop, to the Library, to the movies, even to football games.

Prices have made this increasingly an older people's town, and affluent older people at that. How many young couples now live in this town? They simply cannot find apartments they can afford. How many single people of moderate means, schoolteachers, librarians, nurses, secretaries, live here, alone? How many young bachelors? How many persons on small pensions? Fewer and fewer every year.

Because of the volume of news which must be covered at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

It is not, as Mr. Carrick suggests, a question of moving back and forth from Borough to Township. For the young marrieds, other than in University housing, it's a question of living well out of the Princeton and driving to work here. The same is true for very heavy percentages of the single people. For the older ones it is usually a question of moving away entirely as incomes give way to pensions.

These things are a social cost that cannot be exactly measured, but its unhealthy results can be seen in the age-level

What are you looking for?

Health? Happiness? Prosperity? We all certainly have a right to these things. But if you're having trouble finding them, could it be that you're looking in the wrong direction? Many people around the world, who are finding deep satisfaction in their lives, credit it to a new outlook. By getting a clearer view of their relationship to God, the giver of all good things, they are finding what they are really looking for.

Martin Brookes, C.S.B., a teacher and practitioner of Christian Science, used to teach this in a free, one-hour talk entitled, "What Are We Looking For?" It could be one of the most important hours you've ever spent.

"A Big Sociological Lie."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

"Opposes housing" was

TOWN TOPICS heading on an article about the growing opposition to non-profit moderate cost housing in the Borough.

No matter how many slogans intended to frighten uninformed taxpayers are being used in opposition to reasonably-priced housing is what it's all about.

There is a big sociological lie being perpetuated that there are two Princetons. But in every area violently affecting our lives, the two Princetons must be considered as one town. We recognized this when we regionalized

the schools and planned recreational facilities.

We must also recognize it and work together to prevent this town from turning into just another rich man's suburb.

Protest from Riverside.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A principal with many years of service within the Princeton school system resigns in the middle of the school year and we are told that she is resigning because of personal reasons.

A meeting is called by Dr.

McPherson, the School Superintendent, for Wednesday,

March 5, to discuss the future of the Riverside School to which only a handful of carefully-selected people are included.

Because of the ensuing uproar in the community, the Riverside P.T.O. calls a meeting for Monday, March 10, so that the parents can learn the reasons leading to Mrs. Packard's resignation. Only three members of the School Board are present who can provide little, if any, information.

There is concern about the fact that an ungraded school system may be introduced at Riverside. This is neither de-ned nor affirmed. All we know is that no information is available as to future policies and objectives.

Dr. McPherson in a letter to the writer speaks about "clearly unfounded rumors."

It would seem that the Superintendent and the Board are obligated to provide the facts leading to the principal's resignation and spell out their future aims in a meeting with the parents of Riverside

School, so that these rumors can be laid to rest once and for all.

In Princeton

SUBURBAN NEW OPERATOR
Of Princeton Air Flights. The daily scheduled commuter air flights formerly operated by Princeton Airways are now being handled by Suburban Airlines of Red Bank.

The change in operation in valves air flights only. Princeton Aviation Corporation, of which Webster B. Todd Jr. is president, will remain under his ownership. The firm, will continue to offer aircraft maintenance, hangar space and charter flights, and operate its flight school.

Suburban Airlines has been operating flights from here since March 10, Princeton Airways has daily service to Newark, New York and Washington D.C. airports.

Charles Osborn, former business manager of Princeton Airways, is now in charge of sales and operations concerning all Suburban flights from Princeton Airport and Trenton. He emphasized that, for the present, there have been no changes in the schedule. "All flights are in operation as before," he said.

Actually, the acquisition of Princeton based flights is just part of a larger expansion involving other airlines in Pennsylvania and Chicago. Once the mergers are complete, the combined commuter air service would be one of the largest in the northeast.

In addition to Princeton flights, Suburban Airlines has taken over the operation of Commuter Airlines of Chicago and Chatham Airlines, a division of Eastern Aero of Morris-town. Suburban Airlines, itself, last year merged with Reading Aviation Service Inc., head quartered in Reading, Pa.

VALU-VISION INSTALLED
By Weidel Realtors. Valu-Vision Show of Homes, a theatre run by realtors with color photographs of homes in Mercer, Burlington and Lower Bucks counties, has been installed at Karl Weidel, Inc., Realtors, an area exclusive. Each property in the show is photographed in color, both inside and outside, and then placed on a display screen which becomes part of the reality office.

"It saves the buyer and the salesman a great deal of time in the selection of which houses to see," according to realtor Richard A. Weidel. "The effectiveness of Valu Vision is at tested by the minimum amount of time necessary to complete each sale."

SALESWOMAN ADDED

To Henderson Staff. Mrs. Ida T. Bennett, 21 Robin Drive, Montgomery Park, has joined the sales staff of John T. Henderson Inc., Realtors.

A graduate of Ursinus College, Mrs. Bennett was social chairman of the Princeton High School PTA, before joining Henderson. She is also a past president of the Mercer County Medical Auxiliary.

SALES HIT $4 BILLION
For Western Electric. Western Electric, manufacturing and Supply unit of the Bell System, reported that its 1963 sales reached a record high of $4 billion.

James J. Doherty Jr., vice president of the 100-year-old company, said that the earnings for 1963 rose $30 million to $192 million. In 1962, Western Electric suffered a $20 million decline in profits.

During the past year, engineers at the company's Engineering Research Center in Princeton announced two new manufacturing applications for laser beams.

One process used laser for welding the elements of a tiny transistor for military projects. The center also developed controlled fracturing with a laser, designed to separate brittle materials without marring their surface.

been provided by the American Institute of Architects.

The corporation will be concerned with the human and social consequences of physical design. "The architect is no longer working in cities for a single client," explained Ralph G. Schwarz, president. "The client may well include the whole community and such factors as air and water pollution, traffic congestion, disruption of neighborhoods, and jobs and schooling must be considered with the design."

The corporation will suggest how architects can advance new forms of transportation, the renewal of older cities and design of new communities.

Mr. Gregory, vice president of A. I. A., has designed homes, offices, and churches. He has served on area and state boards in the fields of planning and the arts and has also been a university teacher and critic.

Another Salvo Fired in Dog Leash Battle

A permanent committee, whose aim is a total dog leash law in the Township, has been formed. The organization, known as the "Committee for Responsible People and Animals," has named an executive committee of residents from all sections of the Township.

Mrs. James Cronin, 248 Hartley Avenue, committee secretary, said that committee members reported that in the past few weeks almost all dogs have been well controlled by their owners, and that "some of us in heavily infested areas haven't seen a dog in three weeks."

The committee feels that this demonstrates three things: (1) dog owners can control their animals if they want; (2) dog owners know their dogs are offensive; and (3) they must have been told to keep their dogs at home until Township Committee acts. They then expect to be able to let them run with impunity.

"Our committee has looked at the dog people's petition," Mrs. Cronin said. "We see how they got so many signatures so quickly — they knew where not to go by looking first at the PTO petitions. Also, there are the inevitable Borough signatures and some who signed twice. We noticed many signatures from infirmaries and convents, which is fine, of course. After a cursory study, we could only conclude from the addresses that generally, speaking, these people want a leash law and country people don't."

The committee's goals are: "To call attention to the continuous degradation of property and threat to safety which roaming dogs cause in all parts of the Township; to remind dog owners that it is their responsibility to keep their dogs on their own properties; and to remind our elected representatives that it is the Township's duty and not that of the individual who is injured to bring the offenders to book."

Township Zoning Board scheduled for hearing this Thursday at 8 p.m.

The appearance of Harold G. Houghton and Sons and James Castoro for Park Lane Equities, Inc., was postponed by mutual consent last month for a March appearance.

The Zoning Board will also hear a request from the Antlers Sportsmen's Club to use the club's Herontown Road property as a gun club, with skeet and trap shooting.

Stuart Country Day School will ask for a special permit so that theYWCA can operate a summer day camp on school land, and John A. Ellis, 115 Winant, will ask variances to construct a two-car garage, a family room and a bigger living room.

NURSERY SCHOOL IS TEN Cherry Hill to Celebrate. Mrs. Irving Kay, director of the Cherry Hill Nursery School, at the Unitarian Church, will be guest of honor at a dinner this Friday celebrating the school's tenth anniversary.

The dinner, to be held at the Princeton Inn, will be attended by more than 50 families and associates of the school. More than 300 youngsters have attended the school and 44 are enrolled there now.

Also to be honored Friday will be Mrs. Harry Succop, music teacher. Current teachers at the school are Mrs. J. H. Knudsen, Mrs. Lawrence Bayern and Miss Joanne Bakker.

Mrs. Kloth, the director, was born in Berlin and left there in 1939 on the last "Children's Transport" to England.

In England, she worked in the Hampstead Day Nurseries, headed by Anna Freud. It was in this nursery where the famous studies of childhood separation were conducted, in which it was discovered that children evacuated from London during the blitz and separated from their parents, suffered more from the separation than from the war.

DO YOU KNOW...

*** that the law can force you to pay twice for the same home improvements if you prime contractor fails to pay sub-contractors who worked on your house?
*** that the law can force you to pay all your monthly installments to a bank or finance company, even if you never received what they say your monthly installments are supposed to be paying for?
*** that many nationally advertised brand names are no longer the reliable guide to quality and dependability standards that they once were?
*** that in a recent year, more than 1500 wealthy farmers or farm corporations received from the Federal Government more than $100,000 EACH for NOT growing crops which, if they had been grown and marketed, would have helped keep food prices down?
*** that, according to a former Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, at least FIFTY BILLION DOLLARS is lost by the Federal Government every year through tax loopholes enjoyed by special interest groups?

CAN ANYTHING BE DONE ABOUT ALL THIS?

WE THINK SOMETHING CAN BE DONE. Obviously we as Princeton consumers can't expect to move national policies on our own. Yet every national movement must start somewhere, and Princeton we feel is as good a place as any for a politically effective consumer movement to start. In the meantime, we CAN

- 1) PROTECT OURSELVES AS INDIVIDUAL CONSUMERS by dealing with business people we know and trust first-hand and with Consumer Bureau Registered business people our neighbors know and trust (being sure to report to Consumer Bureau promptly any injustice or complaints against any nearby business firms); and
- 2) JOIN CONSUMER BUREAU and thereby begin to let manufacturers, legislators and government officials at all levels know that alert consumers are a factor to be reckoned with in the formulation of business and economic policies. No dues to pay (income we receive from Consumer Bureau Registered business people who wish to advertise their Registration pays our operating expenses). No work to do unless you volunteer to serve on some of Consumer Bureau's special committees. And you will be on our mailing list to receive notices of all Consumer Bureau meetings and social occasions.

BLIND STUDENT CURED
Now Records for Blind. A former college student, who experienced steadily deteriorating vision and then total blindness for almost two years, before an operation returned his sight to normal, is now spending his time each week, recording for the blind.

Michael Steele, a Mercer-ville resident, first began to have problems with his vision eight years ago, and it was discovered that a cone-like growth on each cornea reflected light from his sides in stead of being refracted into the retinas, where vision is sensed.

Prescriptions for successively stronger contact lenses worked for a while, and Mr. Steele was able to finish three years of college. However by 1964, his sight was so poor, that both corneas had to be removed by surgery and new lenses transplanted. He was unable to see at all during most of that year and 1965.

During this period Mr. Steele was able to keep up his studies by using the products of the Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind. He resumed his studies in the fall of 1965, graduating in 1966.

Married recently to Christine Gontowicz, Mr. Steele is a personnel programs manager of IBM's Princeton branch office. He spends some of his spare time each week recording books at the Princeton Unit. His wife, also plans to do volunteer recording and monitoring there.

The Princeton Unit has more than 100 volunteers in its studios at 100 Stockton Street. Due to increasing demands for the service, there is always need for more volunteers both in recording and monitoring, and also in office and collateral work.

The studios are open four and a half days and four evenings each week. The organization, supported by public contributions, provides educational books free - on - loan to anyone who cannot read because of visual or physical handicaps. Applications may be made at the studios or by phone to 924-6534.

ABORTION IS TOPIC
Of Public Discussion. "Abortion and the Right to Life" will be the topic of an open-panel discussion sponsored by the Lay Societies of St. Paul's Church at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 26.

The discussion, to be held at St. Paul's School Auditorium, will be moderated by Mrs. Valerie Dillon. Mrs. Dillon, a graduate of the University of Illinois, lectures throughout the East on family life, particularly sex education and the parent - child relationship.

The panel members will include John T. Scully, M.D., Peter Amato, Ph.D. and Stephen J. Foley, a lawyer. A specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, Dr. Scully is attending physician at St. Peter's General Hospital and Middlesex General Hospital, both in New Brunswick.

Mr. Amato, who holds a doctorate degree in Medical Science from the University of Chicago, is an associate professor of Anatomy and head of Histology and Embryology at the Hohenemann Medical College and Hospital, Philadelphia.

The third panel member is a partner in an Asbury Park law firm. Mr. Foley will discuss the legal background of the present state law governing abortion.

All interested persons are urged to attend the open meeting, designed to provide the facts concerning proposed change in New Jersey abortion laws.

STATE HALTS DRIVERS
For Points, Speeding. Nine area motorists have had their licenses revoked by the State for excessive speeding or exceeding the point system, and one for being involved in a fatal accident.

Those losing their licenses under the 60/70 excessive speed program were: Donald W. Johnson, 50, 42 Van Kirk Road; John A. Orozco, 29, 10 Blackfoot Lane, Pennington; Gerald W. Bowden, 45, 42 Willow Run Lane, Belle Mead; and Arthur S. Mich, 46, Provincetown Road, all for 30 days.

RECORDING FOR THE BLIND
The Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind, when his sight was temporarily gone, does volunteers work for the organization now that his vision has been restored.

For points: Charles A. Scas-serra, 214, 21 Main Street, Kingston, two months; Mark L. Pollard, 24, 216 Dorchester Drive, Cranbury, three months; and Ira D. Brooks, 21, Mountain Church Road, Hopewell; Thelma Green, Route 27, James F. Withlow, RD 2, Cranbury; and Reginald Carter, 32, 75 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, all one month.

James D. Allen, 17, 9 Center Street, Hopewell, had his license revoked for one year for being involved in a fatal accident.

PROGRAM PLANNED
By Volunteer Groups. Panel discussions will be conducted by several community organizations as part of Volunteer Training Days in Princeton, Tuesday, at Westminster Choir College.

The topics for the one-hour panels include "How to be an Effective Chairman," "Building a Strong Board," "Working with Youth," and "Responsibilities of the Volunteer to the Agency and the Agency to the Volunteer."

Participants may attend any two of the panels which will be led by four representatives of community service groups. The program is jointly sponsored by the United Fund and Council of Community Services, the American Red Cross and the YWCA.

Interested persons may register by calling the Council office at 924-5865. Registration is limited to 250.

OPEN MEETING CALLED
By Princeton P.T.A. The Princeton High School P.T.A. will sponsor an open meeting on new vocational education programs at 8 p.m., Monday, in the High School auditorium.

The discussion will be led by Stanley Stein, of the New Jersey State Department of Labor and Industry, who is in charge of the development of the Princeton vocational programs.

The new system includes an expanded program of on-the-job training for Princeton seniors and seniors in part-time work connected with their high school studies. Increased vocational guidance services will also be provided by the high school.

Parents and other interested members of the community are invited to participate in the open discussion. There will be printed materials available at the meeting on existing and planned vocational programs for Princeton students.

"IT WORKS FOR THE SHAH OF IRAN" was the comment of one male who smiled at this week's question and refused to be identified. Less reticent are Bob Clarke (left) and Mickey Stewart. "Variety is the spice of life," says Bob in seeing no difficulty in a man being in love with two women at the same time. For Mickey's interesting comment, girls, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: In your opinion, can a man be in love with two women at the same time?

Where asked: Palmer Square

Bob Clarke, Ewing window cleaner for Princeton Building Maintenance: I would say yes. Why is it possible? Very simply, variety is the spice of life.

Mickey Stewart, Trenton window cleaner for Princeton Building Maintenance: Yes, I don't see anything unusual about that. There's not one woman who can tame me.

Mrs. Jan Flaugh, 27 Jefferson Road, housewife: Yes, and the same is true of a woman. It's just like a mother's love for her children; she loves more than one.

Robert Purvis, 184 Witherspoon Street, employee of Trenton Window Cleaning: Yes, I see no difficulty in this. A man can love more than one woman for a number of reasons. It depends on the person. I've done it myself. It's more fun that way.

Elaine Glinka, 293 Walnut Lane, PHJ junior: Yes, I think he can. It's probably stronger to love one woman, but I could see where one could be his wife and the other could be his mistress. He could love them both but he would feel a different kind of love for each.

Miss Pamela Phoe, 588 Ewing Street, PHJ junior: Yes, because I figure one person loves and one is loved. It's never completely equal. A man could love one woman and be the active partner and he could love another in a situation in which he lets himself be loved.

Bill Sharstone, South Dog Hall, University freshman: I say yes but I don't think it has to be a deep love. Perhaps a special form of love such as we often experience before marriage. Do I think a man could be deeply in love with two women at the same time? No, I don't think he could.

W. J. Flaherty, Princeton Junction, sales manager: You're trying to get me into trouble. I'll say yes. Sure -- your mother, wife and daughters.

Maxis Connes, Clover Lane, employee of Goodale, Inc., 20 Nassau: Yes, but I feel it is impossible to love two women at the same time in the same way. You can be in love with two women if you love them in different ways. A man can have a mistress and love her in a different way than he would his wife. You love your wife because she is the mother of your children and so on but she may not be very sexy.

Sandy Greenberg, Dodge Osborn Hall, University junior: I think a person has the ability to be in love with one person. Why not with many?

Cheryl Stein, New York, student at Boston University: Yes, anybody can love more than one person at one time.

Alexander Gelker, Witherspoon Hall, University freshman: Yes, I think so. I don't see any reason why it should be impossible.

Mrs. Sandra Boyd, Trenton, Princeton office nurse: I'd say it depends on what kind of man he is. Some men are highly confident to be in love with one woman, to have a wandering eye but not to test the merchandise. And then there are some men who feel they have to sample every new dish that comes along.

Jesse Field, Trenton, Princeton postal carrier: Yes, it's hard to explain but it can happen. Love is a funny thing -- you can get yourself involved very easily. It's not very hard to fall in love.

Miss Lucie Agness, 410 N. Harrison Street, bank secretary: I guess he could if he were a two timer but I don't think he could really be in love with two women at the same time. He may think he's in love with two at the same time but one always gets hurt at the end. I could see a man going out with two different girls at the same time and carrying on a relationship with each but I don't think he could really be in love with both of them -- not with the same intensity.

Andy Gurinko, New Hope, artist: That's possible. I'd say even four or five. It gets confusing but if you're a nice person, why be stingy?

SPORTS In Princeton

TITLES FOR THE TIGERS

Team and Individual. A highly successful winter sports season came to a close for Princeton teams last weekend, capped by the first Tiger triumph in history in the Intercollegiate Fencing Association and surprisingly strong finishes in both the swimming and the wrestling championships.

Individually, Captain Ross Wales won two gold medals in swimming at the Eastern Intercollegiate in New Haven, while diver John Huffstutler placed first in the one-meter competition and third from the three-meter board. Wales set meet records in winning the 100-yard butterfly (50.2) and the 200 (1:53.6), but he has been faster in both events and these times are not Princeton marks.

While all three teams competing in championships exceeded their expectations, the biggest surprise was furnished by Coach Stan Sieja's fencers. They finished on top of the three-weapon standings in the fencing association for the first time since the competition began in 1923. For Sieja, on the Princeton scene since the end of World War II, it was a major accomplishment.

Navy had been favored to win the title but the Tigers ended with 74 points to 73 for the middies and NYU. They excelled in the foul, scoring 30 points with that weapon, and showed good balance by adding 22 each with the sabre and the epee.

Swimmers Second. Yale dominated the swimming intercollegiate as expected but it was Princeton's ability to finish far ahead of the rest of the pack that was cause for celebration here. The Elis won 10 of the 18 titles and compiled a total of 463½ points to 286½ for Coach Bob Clotworthy's Princetonians.

Navy was a distant third with 172, while Dartmouth, which defeated Princeton in a dual meet earlier in the winter, had 165. Princeton depth was the measure of the Tigers' success: 16 of the 18 swimmers who participated placed in either the finals or the consolation finals. Fifth place is normally no great reason for elation, but when it is won by an Ivy team in the strong Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Association, the showing is distinctly unusual.

Navy was the repeat winner in Judo in Gymnasium, compiling 86 points. Army, Lehigh and Penn State followed, with the Tigers fifth with 43. Penn, the Ivy champion, and a number of well-regarded eastern independents in the 16-team field trailed.

Belief that Princeton will improve rapidly in the immediate future is founded on the youth of the squad which gave such a good account of itself. Two members of the team, 130-lb. Allen Uyeda and heavyweight Chuck Dressel, reached the finals before losing. Both are sophomores.

During the winter season, the Tigers won the Ivy title in basketball and finished in a first place tie with Penn for the fencing title. In swimming, Princeton tied for second with Dartmouth, despite a loss to the Indians, when the latter were defeated by Harvard.

Every varsity team save

Geoff Petrie, a nonamus selection, and John Hammer, both juniors.

Named with them were Jim McMillan, captain-elect at Col. Cummins; his teammate, Hayward Dotson, who also returns next year, and a Pennsylvania sophomore, Dave Wohl.

Somewhat surprisingly, Captain Chris Thomford of Princeton was relegated to the second team by the Ivy coaches involved in the balloting. It was the general consensus that Thomford, who made the first team a year ago, had a much better season than he did last winter.

Of the ten players named on the two teams, only Thomford and Cornell's Walt Esdall are seniors. Rounding out the second quintet are Alex Winn, a junior at Dartmouth, and sophomore Jim Morgan of Yale and Steve Bilsky of Penn.

Petrie, who led the Ivy League in scoring with 335 points, is likely to win the few players who have achieved All-Ivy status for all three of their varsity years. He was named a year ago as a sophomore. Hammer was on the second team a year ago despite missing considerable action in leg injury.

Petrie was also honored by being named to the 11-man All-East squad. Selection was based on the frequency with ### Spring Sports? Delicately!

It may be colder at some of the early hall games and crew races than it is when the hockey team plays in Baker Rink, but Princeton's spring sport season isn't far from opening day.

The first contest will take place at 10:30 Saturday morning, March 29, when the University of Maine and Princeton will launch the baseball season with a double header on Clarke Field. Even in mid May, the winds can blow there as they do at Cuddlesick Park, and with the temperature in the 40s, the sale of cold drinks may not set any records.

While the Tiger nine matches hits again against Maine in the afternoon game, Princeton's lacrosse team will open its season on adjacent Campbell Field with the University of Maryland. The following Saturday, the university crew will row against Rutgers on Lake Carnegie, less than two weeks after the ice finally melted.

which a player was named to the All-East team chosen each week during the season, and Petrie was included five different times.

LACROSSE HOPES HIGH
 Veteran Squad at PHS. An ample supply of returning veterans, a tough schedule and a new coach are all part of the picture for the 1969 Princeton High School lacrosse team which will open a 12-game schedule Wednesday, April 2, against Fairlawn.

Returning veterans numbering about 20 will be led by co-captains Peter McCrohan and Bob Cooper. McCrohan, tall and rangy, was second to John Rice in scoring last year with seven goals. Rice has since moved from the area.

Cooper, a scrappy midfielder, scored three goals last year while the Little Tigers were winning 2 of 11. He and McCrohan played together last fall as members of the varsity football team.

Marvin Trotman will take over as coach. Trotman, PHS '56 and perhaps the best basketball player ever to don a Little Tiger uniform, is coach of the winter track team and an assistant football coach but he admits he has had no experience coaching or playing lacrosse. He replaces Bob Arbagast.

Although he may lack the technical experience, Trotman brings other intangible assets. The rapport between team and coach is clearly evident and the spirit seems contagious. His squad numbers around 60. With his team members predicting a state championship, Trotman, more realistically says, "I'm just hopeful we win half." We do have the nucleus to have a good season, he added. "We have quite a few returning lettermen and the spirit has been terrific."

Among those joining Cooper as a midfielder will be Clint Olson, Mike Tomlinson, Jim Irish, Mark Russo, Keith Van Arsdalen, Phil Matthews, Craig Singer, Ken Klotz and Robert Navin.

In addition to McCrohan on attack will be Scott Purvin-point leader last year with five goals and four assists — Gene Holland and Mitch Schep. At defense will be Bill Hartley, Ron Jonkers, Chris Schmitt, Steve Morris and Mauro Peabody. Rich Oberman is expected to return as goalie.

Nine Games Away. Of the 12 games this spring, nine will be away for the Little Tigers. "It's a tough schedule," commented Trotman.

PHS will be tested straight off, Fairlawn, its opening opponent, finished second in the state last year, and the outcome will say much about the Blue and White's chances of achieving a reversal this year.

That game, as will the team's other two home games, will be played at Community Park. The complete schedule: April 2, Fairlawn; 16, Lawrenceville, away; 18, PDS, away; 23, Maplewood, away; 26, Montclair; 29, Peddie, away; May 7, T. J. Van, away; 10, Hanover Park, away; 16, Monton, away; 21, George School, away; 24, Hanover Park and 28, Montclair, away.

CO-CAPTAINS NAMED
 For 1970 PHS Wrestling, Chris Mislow and Mark Evans have been named co-captains of the 1970 Princeton High School wrestling team. Both Evans, this year's 98-pounder, and Mislow, 178-pounder division, have been members of the varsity for the past two years.

TROTMAN TAKES OVER: Marvin Trotman will take over the role as coach of the Princeton High School lacrosse team. He is a 1936 graduate of PHS.

In a second development concerning the wrestling team Princeton High School's letter to the NJSLA, protesting a 20-19 loss to South Brunswick in its final dual meet of the season, has been upheld. The Little Tigers are the official winners in the match, 20-18, and thus ended with a 10-4 mark their best ever.

Controversy centered around the 141-pound match in which the referee refused to allow a one-point time advantage to Princeton's John Cushman because of a 12-second discrepancy in the clocks. He ruled the bout a draw.

The clocks had Cushman gaining a 70-second time advantage over his opponent. He was declared the winner, 5-4.

HOCKEY TEAM HONORED
 At Day School, Princeton Day School's seventh and eighth grade hockey team was honored at a special assembly last week for the squad's undefeated season.

Besting nine opponents, the Panther Cubs scored 46 goals, while allowing just 13, and were on top in most contests by the end of the first period. Close games were played against, Wissahickon and the PDS junior varsity, with the outcome decided by a single goal.

Instrumental in the success of the team was the excellent work of the defenseman Buzz Woodward, center and co-captain, John Mitnacht, left wing and co-captain, Peter Browne and right wing Chris Fraker who was high scorer with ten goals.

TO START 1969 YEAR
 In YMCA Midget Baseball Contracts are in the mail to all eligible players from last year as the YMCA Baseball Committee this week announced plans for the start of the 20th year of operation of the Princeton Y Midget Baseball League.

New applicants may obtain contracts through their schools or at the Y office on Avalon Place. Although playing in the league is a privilege of YMCA membership, the Y announced that no boy will be refused permission to participate because of financial difficulties.

The league is for boys 10 to 12 years of age. Further information is available from John Springer, YMCA physical director.

Because of his new commitments as head football coach at Princeton University, Jake McCandless has stepped down as league commissioner. He will be replaced by Thomas M. Goplin, Jr.

gure, a junior guard. Named to the second team were Pat Williams, the Hun center, and Herman Sacker, of Trenton. Bob Turner of Pennington School joined Maguire and Sullivan on the first team.

Couch Dave Lete's Red and Black finished the season with a fine 17-3 record.

BAD TIMES FOR PRINTERS

Team Loses Second in a Row. Down to only an iron man five, with seven men hobbled by injuries, the Nassau Printers lost its second consecutive game in the South Brunswick Industrial basketball league Monday night and plummeted to the bottom of the standings.

Helped by the scoring of Kerry Klink, who finished with 32, and Buddy Britton, who had 20, the Printers kept the game close, but the Nassau team, led by Rosoff and Smith, for most of the game. However, in the fourth quarter the iron-men qualities of its team members began to fade along with the Printers' chance. Nassau walked away with a 62-61 final.

Fitz James and Pete Hanley scored eight and six points respectively. In other league action, Reggie's Tavern moved out to its customary spot at Trenton, by beating the Villagers, 83-76. The Elks defeated Trent Construction, 81-62. Reggie's is now 2-0, the Printers, 0-2, and all other teams, 1-1.

DAN GOLDEN: 34.5

Like 100-Yard Butcher. Flying Fish member Dan Golden, representing Notre Dame High School, won the 100-yard butterfly in the New Jersey State High School Swim Championships held this weekend. Dan's time was a fine 54.5.

In the same meet, Bob Meusel placed third in the 100-yard freestyle and Bill Grell, sixth, in the 100-yard breaststroke. Both are Princeton High School students.

Four Flying Fish swimmers won medals in an AAU meet held Saturday at the Princeton YMCA pool.

Kris Reeves won the 50-yard freestyle for girls 10 and under in the A division. Her time was 31.3. Carrie Holster won a bronze medal in the 13-14 girls 200-yard freestyle with a clocking of 2:14.7.

Swimming in the B division, Robin Barry won the 100-yard backstroke for girls 11/12 (1:20.3) and Tom McKenna finished second in the boys 13-14 100-yard freestyle. His time: 57.8.

Princeton girls finished second in a field of nine YWCA teams in the Northern Sectionals of Central Atlantic Area held Saturday in Montclair.

Martha Lasley won a gold medal in the 100-yard butterfly with a clocking of 1:30.2. She placed second in the 100-yard freestyle. Other second-place finishers were Maury Dorgan in the 100-yard backstroke and Margaret Martin in the 100-yard breaststroke.

A relay team comprised of Dorgan, Martin, Bolster and Lasley placed second in the 200-yard medley. Martha Gorman, Bolster, Martin and Dorgan captured second place in the 200-yard freestyle.

REGISTRATION BEGINS

For Student Tennis Classes. Student registration for spring classes in the Community Tennis program, which begins April 5, has started.

With the exception of the advanced women's class which has already been filled, classes are available for all ages and abilities, beginning in the third grade for boys and the fourth grade for girls. They will be under the direction of Princeton University tennis coach John Conroy.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at the Recreation Office in Township Hall or by writing Mrs. Barbara Baker, Princeton Community Tennis Program, Ridgeview Road, Princeton.

Those unable to enroll in Conroy's classes are advised to check at the YMCA on Avalon Place on Monday evening, March 31, and from 8 to 5 April 1 for information about alternative classes being offered for advanced adult players.

Borough Wins David-Goliath Match

It wasn't as noteworthy as a UCLA defeat but for the Township police, it was just as surprising.

Monday night in a triple-header in the Hamilton West County High School gym involving police departments from all over the state, the March of Dimes benefit, a much shorter Borough five surprised a much taller Township squad, 34-20.

The two Princeton teams were the first to play and performed before a crowd estimated at just under 200. The Township police, the Ewing police tickled the Lawrence men in blue and in the finale, the police departments of Hamilton and Trenton clashed. The contest was sponsored by the Trenton chapter of the March of Dimes.

As the Township and Borough lined up, few in the stands would have given the Borough much chance of winning. Starting for the Township were Dave Greenwell, 6-5, 250; 6-3 Al Funk, 6-1 Dave Wilbur and 5-10 Frank Buccafusca.

The Borough countered with a starting five whose tallest member was 5-10 Dave Aulton. Others were Robert Mucciarelli, the smallest patrolman on the Borough force at 5-8; 5-9 Victor Fasanella, Jim Bloor and Ron Holliday. To cap matters was 5-10 Dave Aulton. Others were Robert Mucciarelli, the smallest patrolman on the Borough force at 5-8; 5-9 Victor Fasanella, Jim Bloor and Ron Holliday. To cap matters was 5-10 Dave Aulton.

But his love of sports continued. He spent three years at the University of West Virginia preparing for a degree in Physical Education before he left without graduating. "It sure felt good to get back on a gym floor," he said.

For the Borough, it was a small but satisfying measure of revenge against the Township which has the Borough's number in pistol matches between the departments. "They may have superior shooting with a basketball but not with a gun," quipped Township Chief James B. Campbell.

Day after the defeat, one Township officer was still trying to figure out how the Township got embarrassed. "We had the weight," he said, and his face smiled.

The prospects of repeating the police games for the March of Dimes next year are strong and one suspects the Township will be lying in wait the second time around — just as the Borough police, their appetite whetted for more, are lying in wait to meet the Township police and Detective Anthony Pinelli for the first time on their new pistol range below Borough Hall.

A superb marksman, Pinelli has been the Borough's nemesis for years — but that's another story.

ST. PAUL'S SPLITS In Playoff Action. A win and a loss in the playoffs for Mercer County CYO championship left St. Paul's with a draw or the encounter for the title may be scheduled to be played Wednesday against Holy Angels.

In the first round of play St. Paul's suffered a cold streak against Holy Angels in the third quarter of their contest, and never could catch up, losing 50-43. Kevin Tylus scored 18 points, Guy Bertone had 11, Keith Ebrahim and Steve Perpetua each six points.

In an earlier game against St. Vincent de Paul, St. Paul's won easily, 62-37, with Tylus scoring a fantastic 37 points, and controlling both boards with 24 rebounds. Tylus has now scored over the 1,000 mark at St. Paul's, a feat only previously accomplished by Mike Maguire, now playing for Hun.

Dan Coluccio and Ebrahim each tallied eight points. The loss eliminated St. Vincent's from the championship round.

B.I. Bathie and a 74C Series high game a 218, and Marge Drummond (162) were the top performers last week in the Mixed League.

Tied for first in the standings are Taps and King Pins with 34 points apiece. Spares has 28, Strikes 24, Hooks 22 and Mixers, 20.

Willie Russo (166) leveled the most pins in one game in the Blue Angels Hi-X League. Others: Peter Thompson (158), Gary Goff (155) and Bill Skulman (149).

Hi-Lo's and Turkeys, 40 and 36 points, continued their battle for first place. Missiles is a distant third with 26.

In the Business Women's League, Dot Wheeler of Rocky Hill Inn rolled a new three-game high of 593. She had games of 199-223-181 to top the previous high this season of 553 fashioned by Dot Forsyth of University Cleaners.

Ruth Bonin of Thornbury Pharmacy rolled 200 (512) the 200 being her first 200 game. Melinda Cruser just missed with 199.

Other high scores: Julia Ball, 181; Bill Burroughs, 179; Bea Stalcup and Gert Pipi, 175; Carol Lisi, 173; Dot Forsyth, 167-172; Jean Donald, 162; and Eleanor Pinelli, 171; Grace DeVincent converted the 4-7-10 split. Claridge has a 32-30 lead over Jefferson Inn and Ivy Inn, the latter two tied with 28-31. Rocky Hill Inn, Nini Plymouth and Bucci Builders all have 24. Three other teams are tied at 29-41.

Obituaries

Ben Shahn, 70, of Roosevelt, died March 14 at the Sinai Hospital, New York, following an operation two days earlier for the correction of a gall bladder condition. He had been hospitalized for several weeks.

Born in Lithuania, he was the son of a woodworker who brought his family of seven to live in Brooklyn when young Ben was 8 years old. He soon established himself as a side-walk artist, sketching portraits of contemporary sports heroes, and by the age of 15 had become an apprentice in a lithography shop, continuing his high school studies at night.

Following studies in college, he attended the National Academy of Design. In the late '20s, he traveled extensively in Europe and North Africa, and then returned to this country, holding his first one-man show at the Downtown Gallery in New York in 1930. His initial major impact on the art world came with his "Sacco-Vanzetti" series, in which he first used art as social commentary.

Association with the Mexican muralist, Diego Rivera, during the '30s had a basic effect on his career. In 1938, he had his first contact with Roosevelt (then known as Jersey Home-lands) when he executed a mural for the new housing project depicting immigrants from Eastern Europe arriving in the New World.

Sympathetic to Labor. During war, he designed posters for the Office of War Information and in 1944 was chief artist for the Political Action Committee of the CIO. Throughout the latter part of his career, many of his pictures bore a labor message because of his attachment to its cause.

Honors began to come quickly in the ensuing years. In 1954, Mr. Shahn was one of two American artists whose works were chosen by the Museum of Modern Art to hang at the United States pavilion at the Venice Biennale, and 34 of his paintings were exhibited there. In 1956, he was named for a year by Harvard as Charles Eliot Norton Professor and his lectures on art were later published.

Mr. Shahn was the recipient of numerous awards for his work and held membership in the leading organizations and societies in his field. These included Artists Equity, the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters.

Within the last few years, he expressed his philosophy of art this way, declaring that for him there were just three subjects:

"Aloneness, the impossibility of people to communicate with each other, which accounts for the aloneness; and finally, the sort of indestructible spirit of man to keep on going beyond the time when he thinks it would be impossible to arrive anywhere."

Mr. Shahn was married twice, first to Tillie Goldstein, in 1927. They had two children, Judith and Ezra. Following divorce, he remarried in 1935, Bernarda Bryson, also an artist, bore him three children: Susanna, who died in 1967, Jonathan and Abigail.

Some 200 persons attended graveside services held for him on Sunday in Roosevelt. The eulogy was spoken by Philip Wittenberg, a New York attorney, who was a childhood friend.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Tobey, formerly of New York City, died March 17 in the El-Mar Nursing Home, Penns Neck. She was the sister of Mrs. Marie T. Rogers of Princeton.

Mrs. Tobey lived in New York during most of her life where she was a member of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church and was active in the work of The Fresh Air Fund.

A niece, Mrs. Katharine R. Cameron of Princeton, also survives her.

The private service and interment were held under the

CURRICULUM RELEVANT?

Come to Public Meeting. The Relevancy of Curriculum is the subject of the panel discussion that will be the feature of the Friends of Public Education annual meeting. The meeting will be held next Wednesday, March 26, at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School.

Marvin Bressler, professor of sociology at Princeton, will moderate a panel consisting of William Marvel, school board member; George Cody, parent, who was an unsuccessful candidate for the school board; William Cook, teacher at Princeton High School, and two students at Princeton High, Mark Bancroft and Sara Kuhn.

TARGET: FALL 1969

A comprehensive attack on the current shortage of trained technical specialists begins next Wednesday, March 26, when an exploratory meeting for a "Career Development Awards" program will be held at 8 p.m. in the Palmer Room of the Nassau Inn.

Aimed at the post-high school training of students with interests and talents in nonacademic fields, the planners, projected by Henry Chauncy, president of Educational Testing Service, include an 18-member advisory committee.

CDA is designed to encourage and help high school students pursue occupational and technical courses after high school as a route to individual development and career success. The program plans to include scholarships for talented students who need financial assistance, and the development of the image of the world of work as a source of personal satisfaction and dignity.

The Princeton CDA project, according to the prospectus, will aim at approximately 10 awards in June, with Fall, 1969 as the target for recipients to enter post-secondary school training.

It is estimated that, while awards will vary according to need, they will average $500 per year for two years, with additional sums to be considered.

Possible Pilot Study. The prospectus states: "The program will be an important addition to the overall pattern of educational support, and encouragement for able young people in the Princeton area, and it may serve as a pilot study for a contemplated educational program."

"Industry, business, government agencies, hospitals and other organizations have great and growing needs for competent, well-trained technical specialists. This problem is not being ignored by society; but despite the fact that career opportunities which are both personally and financially rewarding are readily available to properly trained young people, we have yet to develop satisfactory and adequate sources of supply of technicians and technologists to meet our needs."

HEALTH HINTS
By George H. Hopkins, D.C. 08540

HOW TO STAY YOUNG AND VIGOROUS AT ANY AGE

Just as "life can begin at 40" for those who have saved money, it also begins for those who have "saved health." Those who have listened to their bodies by living at a fast pace, engaged in excesses, and ignored danger signals, cannot expect to obtain the same benefits as an older, fatter, and less healthy person. Even the healthiest folk, who have lived carefully, must learn a new set of health rules to live by.

Youth is a mental as well as a physical attribute.
If you admit you're old and not accordingly, you will be accepted as an older, fatter, and less healthy old days." live in the present, mix with younger folk, and follow today's clothing fashions. But don't try to outdo the youngsters in physical endurance.

Slow down, avoid fatigue, don't overtax yourself.
Learn to relax and avoid emotional upsets and unpleasant excitement. Certain emotions can age — especially hate, suspicion, and jealousy — can poison the system. Be patient at all times; watch your waistline and your regularity. Chronic indigestion, insomnia, headaches and tiredness are warning signals. Consult your doctor or dietician for a thorough checkup and learn how to live and like it.

Youth is a state of mind; age is a surrender.
Time deals gently with those who treat it gently.
You can be 40 years old, or 70 years old, and die old at 39 or young at 80. Keep up on what is going on in the world; cultivate a hobby; be as active as today and look forward to each day as a new adventure.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has?
Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features.
As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

AN IMAGINATIVE OWNER AND HIS ARCHITECT

worked long and hard to make this one of the most interesting modern houses we've seen. Built only three years ago on an acre and a half of woodland in the nearby countryside, its exterior of rough stone, weathered board and batten and hand split cedar shakes gives it a comfortably rustic appeal. Inside, from the entrance hall, there are a few steps up to an airy tree house of a living room with walls of glass, high ceilings and access to a surrounding balcony and broad deck. Dining ell also opens to a protected deck. Well-planned kitchen. Below, two children's bedrooms and two baths open off a play area by conveniently placed laundry. Delightfully secluded in a wing by itself (almost a separate house), there is a wonderful master suite consisting of high-ceilinged bedroom, full bath and study with fireplace. Beautiful, leafy vistas from every one of the dozens of thermopane windows plus a shimmering lake view from living room and deck. Altogether a house for those who want to add style and verve to their everyday living. Offered here for the first time. $86,500

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP HOUSE WITH EVERYTHING: In better-than-new condition on high land within walking distance of the Littlebrook School. Spacious entrance hall opens to paneled study, formal dining room with sliding glass doors to flagstone terrace, living room with fireplace and paneled family room with fireplace. Excellent kitchen with ample breakfast area. Laundry and mud room. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. Full cellar. Central air conditioning. Two car garage. In short, just what you're looking for at $63,500
